Appendix II Awards

1. Gill Medal

A medal has been established, known as the Gill Medal, to be awarded in recognition of services to astronomy.

The medal shall be awarded not more frequently than once in any year, and no award shall be made if, in the opinion of Council, there is no suitable candidate in any year.

The award shall be made by Council. There shall be no restriction on the eligibility of any person as candidate, and candidates need not be members of the Astronomical Society of Southern Africa.

In making the award, Council shall observe the following conditions:-

- (1) Council shall be required to state the particular service rendered by the Medallist which has been deemed worthy of the award.
- (2) Council shall, as far as may be seemly, give preference to services to astronomy in Southern Africa.
- (3) Council may, at its discretion, give special credit to services carried out under conditions of difficulty, or with limited facilities.

The award shall be publicly announced at the Annual General Meeting and, if possible, the presentation of the Medal to the successful candidate shall be made at that meeting.

Procedure for election of Gill Medallist

In each year before the end of the first week in April, members of Council shall send to the Secretary of the Society a note of a name or names of suitable persons to receive the Medal, together with a description of the services to astronomy which it is proposed to recognise, and a note of any further particular reasons in favour of any particular candidate. Before the fifteenth day of April the Secretary shall prepare and distribute to each member of Council a confidential memorandum embodying all the proposals and reasons. Members of Council shall then, where necessary, give suitable instructions to their alternates. At a meeting of Council to be held in May, one name, or in the case of joint work, two or more names, shall be selected, or Council may decide that no suitable name has been proposed.

Council may not add names to those originally proposed, but it may redraft the citation of the services for which it is proposed to award the Medal.

If a name or joint names has been selected, this name, together with the citation, and any further particular reasons, shall be incorporated in a ballot paper, a copy of which shall be sent to each member of Council. Members of Council shall then vote for or against the award of the Medal to the person or persons named in the paper, for the service cited. Ballot papers must reach the Honorary Secretary by the end of the first week in June. Two-thirds of all the voted cast shall be necessary to confirm the award.

If a member of Council or an alternate be proposed as a candidate he shall withdraw from the discussion and voting; if an alternate be proposed his principle shall send his instruction to the Chairman of the Council Meeting, who shall be given an extraordinary additional vote for each such case, at the meeting which selects the name of the final candidate.

All the proceedings leading up to the award of the Medal shall be kept confidential by members of Council and their alternates.

Candidacy may be discussed among members of Council, but it is not to be a matter of public debate, and members of Council representing Centres of the Society are not bound to accept instruction from those Centres in this matter.

The details of discussion in Council shall not be minuted, nor the names of candidates specified. The minutes shall record the fact that candidates were discussed and a name selected, if this is done. A sealed copy of the confidential memorandum and ballot paper shall be deposited each year among the Society's papers, and shall only be opened in exceptional circumstances by a unanimous vote of Council.

2. McIntyre Award

Council of the Astronomical Society of Southern Africa resolved to establish a prize to be known as the McIntyre Award derived from the interest on the bequest made to the Society by the late Donald G. McIntyre of Cape Town, sometime President of the Society.

Awards shall be made from time to time as Council shall decide, and shall be normally of a monetary value of not less than R200. Awards shall be made, without distinction of nationality or language, to any living person in respect of work of good academic standard. Council shall take into account features of originality and of literary presentation. Council shall normally appoint suitably qualified referees to report on work under consideration for an award.

Procedure for making an award

Nominations in respect of a work to be published or which has been published in book form or in a journal of recognised standing within the previous five years, may be made to the Honorary Secretary by any member of Council or any Alternate member, and reasons for the award must be given.

When a nomination has been made it shall be incorporated in Council minutes and treated as confidential. After a suitable period of discussion of not less than one month and not more than three, Council shall vote on the proposed award, giving notice in the Agenda for the relevant Council Meeting, that such a vote is to be taken. Two-thirds of all the votes cast shall be necessary to confirm the award. Members of Council shall vote in their personal capacity and shall not seek guidance from Centres which they may represent. Alternate members shall vote as instructed by their principals, but if no instructions have been received, an Alternate may vote in his personal capacity. No member of Council or Alternate shall have more than one vote, and a Council member and his Alternate may not both vote.

When an award has been made Council shall announce it in a suitable manner and shall make suitable arrangements for its presentation. Details of awards shall be included in the Annual Financial Statement by the Honorary Treasurer, which is incorporated in the Annual Report of Council.

3. Long Service Award

In recognition of long service to the Society, Council decided to institute an award to be known as the Long Service Award.

The award shall take the form of a book, suitably inscribed, to a value as decided by Council from time to time.

Nominations for the award, which must include details of the service(s) rendered over the period, must reach the Honorary Secretary by the end of the first week in April each year and may be submitted by:

- (1) any Council Member or past President of the Society provided he is still a member of the Society.
- (2) Any Centre of the Society.

Council shall consider the nominations and in its sole discretion decide whether or not an award shall be made, subject to the following conditions:

- (1) Recognition shall be based on not less than 20 years of invaluable service to the Society which need not necessarily include serving on Council.
- (2) Not more than one award shall be made in any one year.

If possible, presentation of an award shall be made at the next Annual General Meeting of the Society.
